A D D R E S S .

BELOVED FRIENDS :

You have presented yourselves, in this public manner, to make a profession of your religious faith, and to enter into covenant with God and with this Church. God, angels, and this assembly are witnesses to the transaction. The profession which you now make, and the engagements into which you now enter, are of the most solemn moment; they will be heard on high, and will be exhibited on your trial at the last day.

Attend then to your

C O N F E S S I O N O F F A I T H .

1. There is one, and but one God, who is the Creator, and Preserver, and Governor of the Universe, and who possesses every natural and moral perfection.

2. The Bible was written by holy men, as they were moved by the Holy Spirit; and it is a perfect rule of faith and practice.

3. God exists in three persons, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit; and these three are one God, the same in essence and equal in every divine perfection.

1 John v., 7. Mat. xxviii., 19. 2 Cor. xiii., 14. Mat. vii., 21, and x., 32, and xx., 23. John v., 17. Mat. viii., 29. John i., 34. Heb. i., 3, 8. Job xxvi., 13. John xiv., 16, 17. Acts v., 3, 4. Rom. viii., 26, 27.

4. God has for his own glory, fore-ordained whatsoever comes to pass; and he works all things after the counsel of his own will.

Eph. i., 11. Rom. ix., 17-23. Phil. ii., 13. Rev. xvii., 17, and iv., 11. Eccl. iii., 14. Is. xlv., 7, and xlvii., 9, 10. Prov. xvi. 4, and xix., 21, and xxi., 1, and xvi., 1, 9. Job xxiii, 13, 14. Gen. i., 26, 27. Eccl. vii., 29. Rom. v., 12-19. 1 Cor. xv., 21, 22.

6. In consequence of the fall of Adam, all mankind are by nature totally depraved in their moral character; and by their impenitence and unbelief deserve to be punished with eternal death.

Gen. vi., 5, and viii., 21. Job xv., 16, and xxv., 4. Ps. xiv., 1—3, and li., 5. Is. xlvi., 8. Jer. iii., 5. Mat. xii., 34. Rom. i., ii., iii. chaps., and viii., 7, 8. 2 Cor. v., 14. Eph. ii., 1—3. 8. Through the atonement, salvation is freely offered to sinners in the gospel; yet they all naturally reject this gracious offer, and refuse to come to Christ that they may have eternal life.

9. God has, in the covenant of redemption, given to Christ a certain number of mankind, who were from eternity predestinated to be holy, and to be heirs of eternal glory.

10. The Holy Spirit, by an act of special grace, renews the hearts of all the elect, and causes them, in the present life, to accept the salvation of the Gospel.

11. The foundation of the elect's forgiveness and salvation from endless punishment, is the atonement of the Lord Jesus Christ, in which they become interested by true faith alone; yet God will reward them for all their holy services.

Is. liii., 4—6, 8, 11, 12, and xxviii., 16. Mat. xxvi., 28. Acts xx., 28. Eph. i., 6, 7. Col. i., 14, 20. Heb. ix., 22, 26, 28. 1 John i., 7. Rev. i., 5. Rom. iii., 24. Eph. v., 2. 13. All who were not given to Christ, in the covenant of redemption, will persist in sin, and be formed, by their impenitence and unbelief, into vessels of wrath, and fitted for endless perdition.

Rom. ix., 22, and xi., 7—10. 1 Peter, ii., 8. John ix., 39, and xii., 37—40. Mat. xiii., 13—15. 1 Thes. v., 9. Is. vi., 9, 10, and xxviii., 13. Ps. lxxix., 22. 2 Cor. ii., 16.

14. None but the cordial friends of Christ ought to partake of the Lord's supper; and every church ought to require a profession of holy love to the Lord Jesus Christ, of all whom they admit to their communion.

† Mat. xxii., 11, 12, 13. 1 Cor. x., 16, 21. 2 Cor. vi., 14—18. 1 Cor. xi., 23—29. Acts ii., 47.

15. Adult believers who have not been baptized, and the children of professing believers, are the proper subjects of baptism.

16. God has appointed a day in which he will judge the world in righteousness by Jesus Christ, who will then receive the righteous to endless happiness, and sentence the wicked to endless punishment.

Eccl. xii., 14. Acts xvii., 31. Jude vi., 14, 15. 2 Peter ii., 4. Rom. ii., 16, and xiv., 10, 12. Mat. xii., 36, and xvi., 27, and xxv., 31—46. John v., 22, 27. Rev. xx., 12, 13. Luke xviii., 29, 30. John iii., 15, 16, and vi., 27. 2 Cor. v., 1, 10. 1 Peter i., 4, and v., 4. Rom. ii., 7. Rev. iii., 5, 12, 21, and vii., 9—17, and xxi., 4. Is. lxvi., 21. Mat. xiii., 40—42, 47—50. Mark ix., 43—48. All these things you heartily profess and believe.

[The ordinance of Baptism is here administered.]

Attend now to your

C O V E N A N T.

IN the presence of God, his holy angels, and this assembly, you do now solemnly avow the Lord Jehovah—Father, Son, and Holy Ghost—to be your God and your portion forever. You do solemnly devote all your faculties, powers, and possessions to the service and glory of your Maker; covenanting that you will be the Lord's forever; engaging that, through the aid of his Spirit, you will cleave to him as your chief good, will love him supremely and obey him faithfully; that you will give diligent attendance to his word and ordinances; that you will seek, above all things, the honor and interests of his kingdom; and that you will aim, without ceasing, to adorn your profession by a blameless life, and by holiness of heart.

You do also now cordially join yourselves to this Church of Christ, and engage to submit to the regular administration of its government and discipline; to strive earnestly for its peace, edification, and purity; and to walk with its members in Christian faithfulness, fellowship, and love.

Trusting in the grace of God, you thus covenant and engage.

[The members of the Church here rise.]

In consequence of these professions and engagements, we, the members of this Church, do now affectionately receive you to our communion, and in the name of Christ declare you entitled to all its visible privileges; we welcome you to the fellowship with us in the blessings of the gospel, and on our part engage to watch over you with Christian fidelity and tenderness, and seek your spiritual edification; imploring of the great Head of the Church, that both you and we may be faithful to our Covenant, and glorify him with the holiness which becometh his house forever.

A D D R E S S .

BELOVED IN THE LORD :

Let it never be forgotten, that you have here come under obligations from which you cannot escape; you can never withdraw from the Covenant which has now been confirmed; wherever you go, these vows will be with you; they will follow you to the bar of God, and will abide upon you forever.

May the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus Christ, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, make you perfect in every good work, to do his will, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ.

Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy; to the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and forever. Amen.

Ecclesiastical Principles and Rules.

A D O P T E D 1 8 5 5 .

1. A Church consists of a number of visible saints, who unite and bind themselves, by a public profession of the Christian religion, and by a mutual covenant, to maintain religious communion, in the worship and service of God, and the ordinances and discipline of the gospel.

2. Such a company of saints possesses all the power which the Lord Jesus Christ has given to his church; and is warranted, independently of any other body, to exercise in his name the authority, which he has given in the scriptures for the maintenance of the peace, order, purity and happiness of his churches.

3. A church may exist, and has a right to act, respecting all its interests and concerns, previously to the election and appointment of its standing officers.

4. It is the duty and privilege of a church to choose and appoint its own officers, who are bound, when they are regularly inducted to office, to act as servants of the church for the promotion of its spiritual interests in the duties of their appointment.

5. The ordinary and permanent officers of a church are ministers and deacons; but in addition to these permanent officers, this church shall choose annually, by ballot, a Clerk, Treasurer and Committee of three, which Committee, with the permanent officers, shall constitute an Executive Committee of this church.

6. It is the office and duty of a minister to preside in the church, to preach the gospel, to administer the ordinances, and to labor publicly and privately for the spiritual welfare of all the souls that are committed to his charge.

7. It is the office and duty of a deacon to perform any stated or occasional service, that is assigned by the church, and particularly to serve the church, at the administration of the Lord's Supper, and in the communication of their charity, to relieve the temporal necessities of its needy members.

8. It shall be the duty of the Clerk to keep an accurate record of all the doings of the church.

9. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer, under the direction of the Executive Committee, to take charge of and disburse the moneys of the church, and the beneficence of the congregation, and report annually.

10. It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee—First, to have the oversight of the general subject of discipline—Second, to examine and propound candidates for admission to the church—Third, to audit the Treasurer's account.

11. Candidates for admission to this church, after having been examined by the Executive Committee, at a regular church meeting, shall stand propounded for at least two weeks.

12. Persons received on profession shall present either a written or verbal statement of their christian experience.

13. Persons received by letter, as well as by profession, shall give a public assent to the Articles of Faith and Covenant.

14. A church is bound, by its covenant, and by the requirements and exhortations of the scriptures, to be attentive to the conduct and state of all its members, to maintain and manifest a spirit of christian affection and sympathy, and to watch for the prevention of unchristian and disorderly conversation and behavior.

15. If any member of a church do any injury or give any offence to another member, it is his duty to go without delay to the one whom he has injured or offended, and make a christian acknowledgment and confession of his fault, and render satisfaction to his offended or injured brother.

16. Whenever any member of a church is guilty of a scandalous offence, it is the duty of any other member, who has a knowledge of the offence, to go directly to the offender, and proceed with him according to the instructions of the Lord Jesus Christ, in the eighteenth chapter of Matthew's gospel.

17. When the private steps have been unsuccessfully taken, the complaint before the church, in a definite charge or charges with the names of the witnesses, shall in all cases be presented in writing, signed by the complainants.

18. No member shall be tried before the church for any offence, unless the specific charge or charges shall have been presented to him, in writing, with the names of the witnesses, at least two weeks before the day of trial.

19. A church ought to excommunicate every offending member who persists in his offence, or does not afford evidence of repentance and reformation, after dealing with him according to the scriptures.

20. An excommunicated person may not be restored but upon a public confession of his sin, a profession of repentance, and a reformation of his conduct.

21. As psalmody is a very important part of religious worship, it is the duty of a church to take proper measures for the decent and devout performance of this service.

22. It is expedient for a church to obtain the judgment and advice of other churches, in important and difficult cases.

23. There shall be a church meeting held once in two months, at such regular time as the permanent officers shall select, for business, if any, and for devotional exercises. A special meeting may be called at any time by the Pastor, Deacons, or Clerk, by a notice at any public religious meeting, or by seasonably notifying each resident member of the church. All business meetings shall be opened by prayer; and in the absence of the Pastor, the senior Deacon shall preside.

24. The Lord's Supper will be administered once in two months.

25. The annual meeting of this church, for the choice of its temporary officers, shall be holden on the first Thursday of March.
